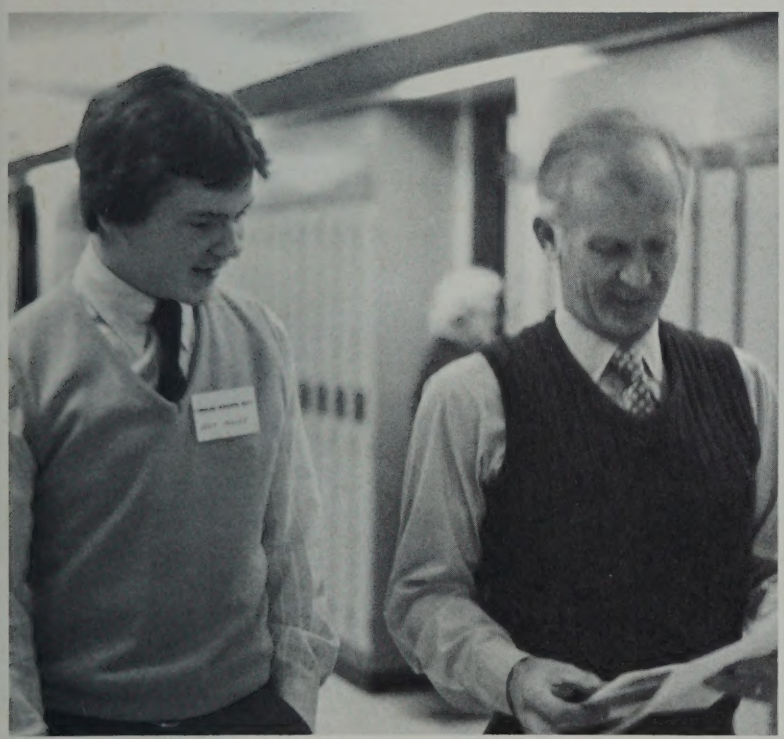
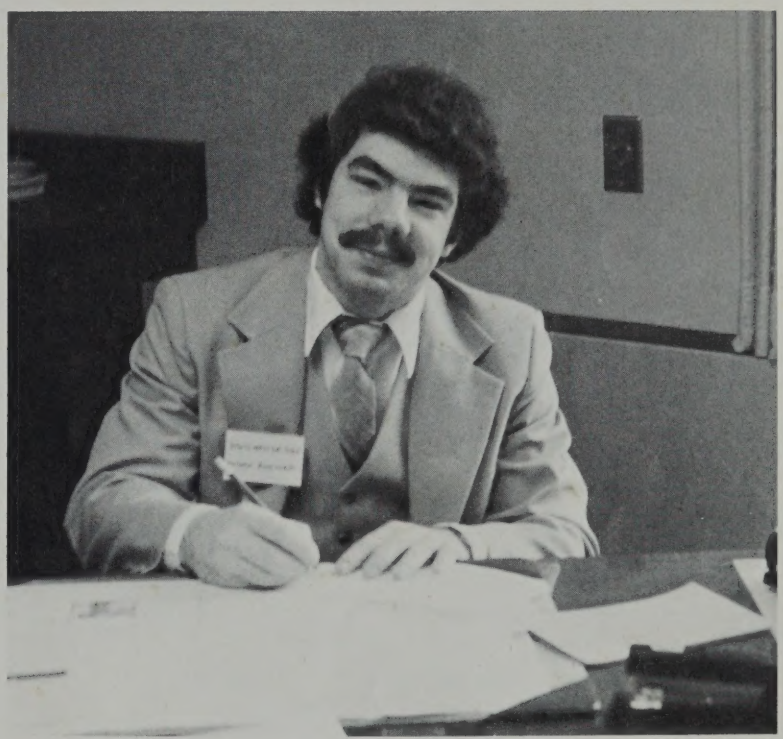
DICTIONARY

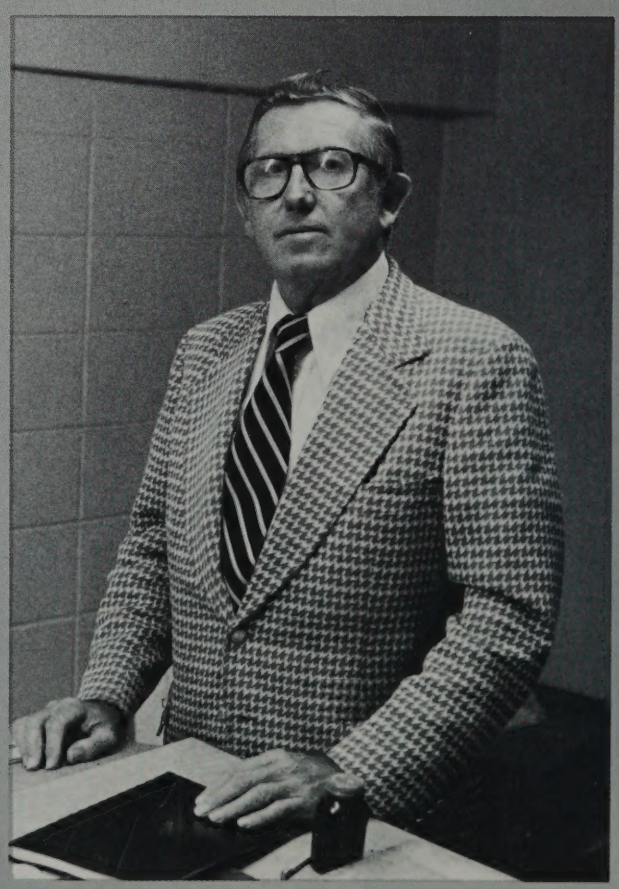




Mr. Paul Maty

Mr. Paul Maty carried the New Bedford High School Industrial Arts Department from a one-man operation into the expanded facilities we have today. He was, in effect, the forerunner (along with Jack Rex) of the department we take for granted. It was the ground work laid by Paul which led to our present high standards. His talent and his amiable personality will be sorely missed by administration, faculty and students alike.

. . . John Farrell, Industrial Arts Dept. Chairman



Mr. William Doyle

Mr. William Doyle retired this year, the most senior member of the English Department and the advisor to the Crimson Courier. During his tenure in the School Department, Mr. Doyle demonstrated genuine concern for and interest in all those with whom he came into contact. He was the guiding spirit behind the great success of our school newspaper and at all times was a man of compassion and dedication. We wish him good luck; we will miss his talent and his good humor.

. . . Charles Robinson, English Department Chairman
